

junebug
WEDDINGS — you've been published!

Podere Finerri
has been published on Junebug Weddings
in Katie and Dallas' Real Wedding Feature!

© Roberto Panciatichi Photography

To celebrate this wedding and the work of all of the talented professionals involved, we've published it on our award-winning style blog, What Junebug Loves! We've also created a link to your website so our readers will know how to find your services.

We are honored to promote your business and wish you great success in the months ahead! For more information about Junebug Weddings and our World's Best Wedding Professionals Hotlists please visit our website, email us at contact@junebugweddings.com or call us toll-free at (888) 418.6149.

xoxo,
the junebug weddings team

Spread the Word!
Let people know about your feature with one of our Published On Junebug badges or spread the word on social media.

+1

Share

Tweet

WHAT JUNEBUG LOVES

Picturesque Tuscany Elopement with Photography by Roberto Panciatici – Katie and Dallas

March 12, 2014 | christine

Effortlessly stylish and epically romantic, Katie and Dallas' Tuscany elopement was inspired by the expansive natural beauty of the Italian countryside, and the unbelievable food, wine and atmosphere that goes with it. From the sunset ceremony to the candlelit dinner, Roberto Panciatici captured every magnificent moment – if his images don't make you want to jet off to Italy, like right this second, I don't know what will. Enjoy!

The Couple: Katie and Dallas

The Wedding: 10.19.13 - Podere Finerri, Asciano, Italy

To search type and hit enter

The What Junebug Loves wedding blog is all about celebrating and inspiring your personal wedding style!

sponsors

The Planning: We knew from the very beginning that we wanted to elope in Italy and have a trip of a lifetime instead of having a traditional wedding. Our friends Megan and Bryan had recently honeymooned at Podere Finerri in Tuscany and instantly convinced us it was the perfect place for us to get married. Dallas completely took the reins and planned our travel itinerary through Paris, Venice, Tuscany and Rome, and Daniela at Podere Finerri graciously handled the day-of details.

The Moments: The entire day truly was magic and ridiculously romantic! We soaked up every second of the beauty at Podere Finerri, but one moment will stay forever closest to my heart... Just after I finished final makeup touches and slipped into my dress, I stepped outside to take in the view and some fresh air. A large beautiful butterfly floated toward me, landed on my belly, and literally stayed looking at me for several minutes before floating back off into the olive grove. This moment was so special because we had chosen our date in honor of my late grandmother Yvonne's birthday who I was incredibly close with, and ever since she passed several years ago, I believe she shows up in my life from time to time as a black and gold butterfly. It was such an emotional moment! And we are STILL reminiscing about our insanely delizioso seven-course meal prepared for us by Malcolm, the owner of Podere Finerri and chef extraordinaire.

